

MAPP

What is MAPP?

MAPP (Motivation, Aspiration Personality, Progression) is a HSEQ specific personality profiling tool, based on The Five Factor and assesses 12 personality traits in total.

What can it help you to do?

Retain, engage & motivate your current team

Gain deeper insights into the personality traits, aspirations and motivators of a candidate.

Enables you to unlock the candidates potential and enable them to thrive.

When to use MAPP

Assess all your current team.

When recruiting new team members.

> Introduction

Your goal is to build the best team. Our role is to help you.

MAPP is our bespoke, HSEQ specific profiling tool. It benchmarks against 'best in class' HSEQ traits and builds up a holistic view of an individual, team or organisation.

It's fully scalable and operates throughout the entire talent lifecycle, from attraction and recruitment through to personal development and succession planning.

The right match means that organisations receive a positive return on their talent investment and the employee makes a positive step forward in achieving their career ambitions.

> What it does

The tool when used at recruitment stage helps to provide richer information on the candidate and mitigate against making the wrong hire.

It helps managers understand how they can enable team members to thrive in their organisation.

MAPP, supporting your team to thrive
